- By now, you've probably heard of LiveGood—the international company making waves with its health and wellness products. Thousands of people are finding success with LiveGood, simply by promoting their products using the company's powerful affiliate system. My wife and I are among those people, earning passive income while staying healthy by using their products.
- LiveGood does an exceptional job supporting its affiliates, providing a robust commission and referral plan that helps everyone succeed. However, I go one step further. I'm not just an affiliate; I'm a team builder. My philosophy is simple: my success depends on your success. That's why I'm committed to helping my team thrive, not just focusing on my own promotions.
- Here's why it makes sense: earning 40% commission on my own sales is great, but earning 5% from 10 people in my downline who are also making sales is even better. This is where teamwork creates exponential growth.
- Here's how I support the people my wife and I sponsor:
 1. Free Marketing System: I provide all my team members with access to LeadsLeap, a must-have marketing platform that simplifies lead generation.
 2. Custom Clickable Images: I've personally created over 100 unique, clickable images for Facebook and other platforms. These images are embedded with your LiveGood affiliate link, guiding prospects directly to the LiveGood tour, where the system handles the selling for you.
 3. Community Support: My brand features a small red paper bird logo in every image. When you see this logo on someone else's post, take a moment to like and leave a positive comment. They'll do the same for you, building mutual support and increasing visibility for all of us. Together, we create a ripple effect that leads to more sales and sign-ups.
- Remember, this is a people-driven business, and we are all part of the LiveGood family.
- Please check out the webpage or PDF attached to this message to see all the clickable images, along with introductory headers and short descriptions. I only ask that you consider joining my team in LiveGood. My team leader has already achieved Diamond status with the company, and like me, offers a wealth of marketing resources and training videos. We also have direct access to support and the CEO.
- Join now—this is a time-sensitive offer. Choose your clickable image, join LiveGood, and send me your link as soon as possible. Let's build success together!
